

NDIS YOUTH SERVICES

Ungooroo offers a range of culturally appropriate National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) supports for children and young people to help them develop skills, communicate with others, get the most out of school, improve their physical strength and mobility, be part of their community and prepare for life as a young adult.

COORDINATION OF SUPPORTS

We can work with you and your child to identify your child's needs and link you with the right local services to best meet your child's needs and goals. Your Support Coordinator will ensure you are informed about all your support options and help you understand your child's NDIS plan and what supports you can access with your funding.

EARLY CHILDHOOD INTERVENTION

Early Childhood Intervention is for children who have a developmental delay. A developmental delay is when a child takes a bit longer to reach milestones such as moving, learning, talking, or behaving. Early Childhood Intervention can help improve your child's development with a range of allied health services.

Ungooroo has a team of allied health specialists who can help your child's development including a Physiotherapist, Psychologist, Audiologist and Speech Pathologist.

LIFE STAGE TRANSITION

For young adults looking at leaving school, leaving home or getting that first job, Ungooroo's team can help identify the young person's abilities, needs and goals and work with them to develop a plan and link them with support to achieve these goals.

This could include individual skill development, community participation and connection and mentoring and peer support.

SUPPORTED EMPLOYMENT

Ungooroo Supported Employment gives young people practical and relevant work experience. Working at Wattaka Cafe allows young people to build hospitality industry skills and training as part of a friendly and supportive team.
